

Script of Community Used Clothes Recycling Bank Scheme – Used clothes donation

Why do we buy so many clothes?

Out of convenience. Online shopping is really convenient. New clothes arrive right on the next day so I usually buy them online

I buy clothes on an impulse. I won't even try them on. If I think they'll fit, I'll buy.

He wears a different pair of sneakers every day and he likes buying new models.

I'll purchase the hottest fashion items of the season.

She almost just lights up when she sees children's clothing,

Yes, girls like to dress up.

Polka dot dresses are my favourite!

I feel cooler after putting them on so I'll just buy them all.

I can only see the clothes in front but never remember what's hidden behind in the wardrobe.

Sometimes our dog will drag her clothes out and play with them.

To reduce waste, please think twice if you really need the clothes before buying.

The Home Affairs Department (HAD) is implementing the "Community Used Clothes Recycling Bank Scheme". You may locate the nearest Recycling Bank through HAD's website or the Government's Mobile App ("Waste Less").

Before donating, please remember to check if there is any personal belonging in the clothing, and keep the clothing clean and tidy. Also, the Recycling Banks are for clothing only.
